LIFE'S WORK CONCLUDED FINAL CALL ANSWERED

Dr. Washington Gladden's
Wonderful Career Is Closed
By Death

Began Life As A Printer And International Reputation As Preacher, Lecturer, Scholar,
Writer And Reform Worker

DR. WASHINGTON GLADDEN.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., July 2.—The Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden nationally known congregational minister and author, of this city, died this morning following a second stroke of paralysis suffered Sunday. Dr. Gladden was 82 years of age.

Distinguished in the religious world, Dr. Washington Gladden also was widely known as a magazine editor and writer, and the author of numerous books, including among which is his "Recollections."

While working as a printer on The Gazette at Oswego, N. Y., Dr. Gladden first began the practice of writing. While he was pastor of the Congregational church at North Adams, Mass., where he had been called in 1866, he began to contribute to The Independent and other magazines, and wrote his first book, "Plain thoughts on the Art of Living." Later Dr. Gladden became identified with leading magazines and at the close of duties as pastor at North Adams, in 1871, he joined the staff of The Independent, serving as editor of the publication for four years.

At the close of 1874 Dr. Gladden resigned his editorship and went to Springfield, Mass., as pastor of the North Congregational church. Eight years later he became pastor of the First Congregational church of Columbus, Ohio. He continued pastor of the Columbus church for 31 years, relinquishing official duty at the close of 1913 and continuing thereafter as pastor emeritus.

From Sunday to Sunday during his active pastorate in the Ohio capital, he labored to disentangle Christianity from what he believed to be its hampering dogmas, to vitalize it and make application of it to the problems of the individual, the city, the state and the nation.

He had no sooner begun his pastorate than the antagonism of labor and capital was forced on his attention by a strike in the Hocking Valley coal mines. Though prominent members of his church were among the employers, he spoke out from his pulpit and in private conferences, setting up ethical standards that were new to many. Here too, he preached sermons which were subsequently gathered into a book called "Who Wrote the Bible?" in which he maintained it was written by men without unusual inspiration, which assertion became the object of no few attacks throughout the country.

His activity in bringing church life closer to every day problems was well illustrated in his personal work in Columbus. He was in the forefront of the fight for municipal reform and in 1900-1902, he served as a member of the Columbus City Council. He greatly helped to frame new trolley franchises, improve the water supply and organize citizens for the election of better officials.

Dr. Gladden for many years manifested deep interest in educational work and lectured before leading colleges and universities, both of the United States and England.

Oswego Academy to prepare for the ministry. Thence in September, 1856 he went to Williams College, graduating in 1859. He married Jennie O. Cohoon, who had been a schoolmate in Oswego Academy.

U. S. TROOPS IN BRILLIANT ATTACK MAKE BIG ADVANCE

275 Prisoners Including Officers
Captured Together With Guns
And Ammunition

(By Associated Press Cable)

With the American Forces on the Marne Front, July 2.—In a brilliant operation after hard fighting American troops on this front last night captured the village of Vaux, together with a large slice of the Paris highway west of Chateau-Thierry and two patches of wooded land.

The Americans took 275 German prisoners including 5 officers, and captured a quantity of machine guns and other equipment.

GERMANS WERE SURPRISED BY THE AMERICANS

In the Vaux region the Americans took the Germans completely by surprise. Most of the prisoners were taken out of cellars and dugouts. How many Germans were killed, of course is unknown but from the number of dead in view at various places the total must have been considerable.

Allied Lines Have Been Moved

German Raiding Attacks Bring Enemy In Gain and Cost
Heavily In Losses

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Again the allied line has been moved forward in the important sector northwest of Chateau-Thierry where the Germans in their late spring rush between the Aisne and the Marne made their nearest approach to Paris.

American troops figured conspicuously in this operation carried out last night in conjunction with the French. They captured the village of Vaux, 2 miles west of Chateau-Thierry, and heights west and northwest of the captured hamlet.

Some important wooded land also was seized and a secure hold obtained on new sections of the main highway leading from Chateau-Thierry to Paris.

The Americans took 275 prisoners together with numerous machine guns and quantities of material. The French also took prisoners bringing the total to more than 300.

Effective assistance to the American infantry in their dash was evidently given by the French artillery, which is posted on Hill No. 204, about midway between Vaux and Chateau-Thierry.

From this eminence the allied line has been carried forward all the way to a point beyond Vaux making the position a greatly improved one for offensive or defensive purposes.

On the British front in the Picardy area Field Marshal Haig's troops have been forced to fight hard to hold their new line northeast of Amiens where on Sunday night they forced the Germans out of a valuable position on the high ground north of Albert.

The Germans counter attacked strongly there last night but failed to regain their lost territory. Only at one point were they able to gain a footing in the old trenches.

On other parts of the front raiding operations were carried out in which the Germans were repulsed with heavy loss.

Allied airmen continue active and are harassing the German lines with increasing violence. French and British airmen have brought down or sent down out of control 53 German machines and destroyed 8 captive balloons. Railway junctions, airdromes and other military targets have been bombed heavily. Mannheim again has been attacked.

When the Germans attack they will probably find an American army corps aiding in barring their way westward. It is believed the first American corps has been completed. Three divisions are in the line from northwest of Montdidier to east of Chateau-Thierry.

SISTERS OF LANSING HAVE THRILLING ESCAPE

MISSSES EMMA AND KATHERINE LANSING

The Misses Emma S. and Katherine E. Lansing, sisters of Secretary of State Lansing, who have been members of the Red Cross in France since last September, recently had a thrilling escape from the Huns. In a village near the front where the Misses Lansing conducted a canteen they were forced, with many other persons, virtually to live in a cellar until they could close the canteen and leave the village. The Germans had advanced in that sector and subjected the village to an incessant bombardment.

S. S. CHILIER OF BELGIUM SENT DOWN

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, July 2.—The Belgian steamer Chilier was sunk 1400 miles off the Atlantic coast June 21st, the Navy Department today announced.

Twenty-five survivors were picked up by a sailing vessel on June 27.

The Chilier was sent down in mid-ocean three days after the British transport Dwinck, was torpedoed 700 miles from the American coast.

It is thought probable here that both vessels were victims of a German submarine returning to base after raiding off the United States coast.

SECOND LIST

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, July 2.—Twenty-six missing in action were reported today in a second Marine Corps casualty list. Two died of wounds and one wounded severely also were reported. The following Ohioans are named.

HOSPITAL SHIP SUNK BY HUNS

London, July 2.—A German submarine, 70 miles from the Irish coast, on the night of June 27 torpedoed the 11,000-ton hospital ship Llandoverly Castle, which had been chartered by the Canadian government and had been in the service of carrying wounded and sick from England to Canada for many months past. The ship then was on her way to England. She had on board 258 persons, including 80 men of the Canadian medical corps and 14 female nurses.

Up to the latest reports only 24 of those on board, including the captain, have survived the treacherous attack, which came without warning.

One of the boats, containing 12 nursing sisters, was seen to capsize, according to latest information. The sisters were drowned.

The submarine commander, who ordered the captain of the Llandoverly Castle, several of his officers, and Major Lyon of the medical corps aboard, declared that he had sunk the ship because she was carrying American aviation officers and others in the fighting service of the allies. He added to this later by asserting that the vessel was carrying munition stores, because of an explosion which occurred aft.

RED CROSS NURSES.

All lights were burning when the Llandoverly Castle was torpedoed. These included a huge electric cross over the bridge and strings of white and green lights on either side. The Red Crosses on the sides of the vessel also were illuminated by electric lights.

According to Red Cross information many men were killed in the engine rooms.

WOMEN CONTRIBUTE FULL TRUCK-LOAD OF JELLY TO BOYS

Jars of jellies, marmalades, preserves and grape juice—hundreds and hundreds of them—pint jars and quart jars, the most delicious looking assortment one could wish to see—is now on the way to Camp Sherman, the result of the combined efforts of the Daughters of the American Revolution in charge of the Camp Sherman jelly supply for the base hospital, and the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense.

It is a safe prediction that there will be no larger and more perfect consignment from any county than the wonderful one being taken over from here this week. It would easily make an immense truck load were it sent that way, but the Daughters, endeavoring to save every penny for war relief work, are taking it over to Camp Sherman in their own cars. This afternoon Mrs. W. B. Woodward, Regent, and Mrs. M. S. Daugherty, vice-regent, motored over with a car full and this morning Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Holloway drove over with their car packed full.

The Daughters have previously sent over two splendid shipments, one before Christmas and one in May. Owing to the large amount needed the Chapter asked assistance of the Woman's Committee Council of National Defense and its forty chairmen sent out the call all through the county. Each precinct responded with the utmost liberality, many sending in their contributions beautifully labeled and boxed.

There was on the part of the Daughters the same generous giving which was apparent in the earlier shipments and the next contingent of sick soldiers and hospital convalescents will certainly revel in delicacies.

The Daughters, who have found the packing and delivery of such an immense assortment are deeply grateful for the co-operation of the Woman's Committee. They also appreciate the kindness of Mr. Fite and the clerks of the Fite Grocery in taking care of the baskets and boxes left at the store and for their assistance in packing them.

LARGE ATTENDANCE S. S. CONVENTION

Richard Cockerill gave a stirring patriotic recitation, "Yankee Doodle

Dandy" and Margaret Limes added a very good reading to the program. Mrs. H. M. Todhunter and Mr. C. R. Lyle gave excellent talks on the State Convention held at Springfield recently.

Miss Fern Foster sang sweetly, "For a Little Bit of Love," and Mr. Lyle "Thank God, I'm An American." The program was closed with the singing of a hymn, the same officers being retained in office for the coming year.

Next Sunday afternoon July 7th the Jefferson Township Sunday School Convention will be held at the Jeffersonville M. P. Church at 2 o'clock.

Poetry For Today

SAVE RUSSIA!

This anguished Mother of a hapless brood—
What shall be done for her, this fateful hour?
Peace was her dream, the while that evil power
The world knows but to hate, her track pursued.
Recall how long the onset she with stood
Of them that trampled down a nation's flower—
More cruel than the panting packs that scour
With blood-lust mad, her wildest solitude.

Save Russia! Say not that she has betrayed
Our hopes—who was herself, betrayed, undone:
Heed her confused cries that ask our aid
Save Russia—lest through her should lie the way,
Far downward, for the triumph of the Hun:
Save Russia—and for Freedom save the day!

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, July 2.—Reduction of $108,196,836 in the operating income of 123 of the largest railroads during the first five months under government control compared with the same period a year ago was announced today by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

For the five months the total was $186,987,144 compared with $295,183,970 during that period last year.

In spite of the reduced operating income revenues of the roads actually were larger for the five months this year than last. They were $1,390,282,620, compared with $1,274,970,498, giving margin which was more than eaten up by increased expenses.

Mutual Confidence

Some of the German leaders are beginning again to talk of the coming of peace and about peace negotiations.

One of the few statements made which can be relied upon is that peace negotiations must be accompanied by mutual confidence held by the negotiators for each other. That is to say when the time comes the world must have confidence in the sincerity of the German protestations, confidence in the German promises and agreements.

With that prerequisite it is impossible—manifestly—to open peace negotiations with the present rulers of Germany because they have made confidence impossible. They have violated every solemn treaty, trampled under their heels every human right and every human impulse, violated, deliberately, the laws of God and nations, made themselves outcasts and barbarians and boasted their success.

Confidence in such men—confidence in men who murder noncombatants, women and children, attack hospitals, and destroy churches just for the purpose of gratifying a desire to kill and destroy and violate?

Impossible.

BURBANK MAN MAKES A HIT AT CHAUTAUQUA

Dr. Henry A. Adrian, In. Remarkable Lecture, Opens Eyes of Local Citizens to Food Problems of Future and How They Must Be Met

Over 1000 Season Tickets Sold—Another Strong Number Tonight

In the presence of a large and deeply interested audience, Monday night, Dr. Henry A. Adrian, "The Burbank Man," delivered his noted lecture on "New Ways of Feeding the World," opening the eyes of the auditors to the gravity of the food problem, and the manner in which it must be met, having various samples of the way that wizard of the plant kingdom, Dr. Luther Burbank, is paving the road for greatly increased production, to illustrate his lecture.

Most of those who heard Dr. Adrian were season ticket holders, the sale of season tickets being the largest in the series of Chautauquas held in this city, passing the 1,000 mark.

Some of the strong points of Dr. Adrian's lecture were: In ten years time the population of the United States has increased 20 per cent and in the same length of time food production has increased only two per cent.

After the war the world will be confronted by the problem of having millions of consumers, maintained in battle, who are not producers.

10,000,000 mothers are clasping starving children to their shriveled bosoms.

For years we have been robbing the soil and giving nothing in return until a naturally rich soil has become sadly depleted.

Enough phosphates, etc are being burned up in battle to replenish every acre of soil in the world.

Millions of acres of land near markets are idle, and producing nothing but weeds. 300,000,000 acres of excellent land going to waste, and every acre is an ally to the Hun and an ally of hunger.

We have 4,000,000 tramps, hoboes and professional loafers, found in the byways and hedges, and in the big hotels, or in touring cars, and the government must reach out and get these consumers and make the producers.

The time is coming when some of the "useless studies are going to be slashed from the schools and when the pupils graduate they won't be helpless as they have been.

The time has come when there must be a return to the soil.

Mr. Burbank is converting sage-brush into cattlefeed, and here is a cactus which he has robbed of its thorns, and is ideal cattle feed, producing 300 tons per acre, while the fibre of the plant can be used for paper making, etc.

Here Dr. Adrian exhibited a large slab of cactus, without a prickler on it, and with "apples" growing from about the edge of the slab. He declared that the apples produced 110 tons per acre annually, and are delicious to the human palate.

Continuing he declared that:

The average farmer makes a half dozen motions in his work where only one is necessary. A house wife makes three unnecessary motions out of every four used in her work.

The time is coming when children will be trained according to their characteristics, and not in the haphazard fashion generally observed.

72 percent of all ailments of the human being come from improper food, or food improperly prepared.

There are 1,500,000 acres of land used for raising tobacco, and tobacco is not a food, but is highly injurious to the user. This land would produce 25,000,000 bushels of wheat—and the world is crying for wheat.

Enough grain is being used by the breweries from sunrise to sunset to produce 3,000,000 loaves of bread, and the time has come when this must be used for food and not for producing liquor. 400,000 men are engaged in the liquor business, and these should be at work producing crops, or in some necessary employment to meet the great cry for help.

40,000,000 horse power is going to waste because water power has not been harnessed in the United States. This would operate all steam locomotives and with 15,000,000 horse power to spare; would save 200,000,000 tons of coal annually on railroads alone.

The egg supply can be doubled by proper breeding.

Plants are as easily trained as children, and are being trained to help mankind.

We must get rid of enemies to the crops. The grasshopper pest was eradicated by establishing the fact that when it hatches, the grub or worm from the grasshopper egg crawls in the direction of the head, and cannot turn around. Plowing kills them by turning the egg over.

Pumpkins of gigantic size have been produced by milk feeding. Watermelons of every color and flavor can be produced.

"Mr. Burbank has shown that timber can be produced in a remarkably short time, and here are samples of black walnut from a tree two feet in diameter and only 16 years old," he said, showing samples of the timber. "It is not necessary to wait a hundred years for wood, but just a few years," he stated.

Dr. Adrian then showed samples of ensilage corn produced by Mr. Burbank, which produces 80 tons of corn to the acre. Wheat produced by Mr. Burbank produces as high as 65 bushels to the acre, he announced.

"There will be no seed in the coming fruit. We want the fruit for the meat," said he.

Toward the conclusion of his lecture he displayed samples of chestnut bushes which, at 10 months, bore ripe chestnuts—another marvel of Burbank's work.

Tonight, following the prelude by the Tchaikowsky Quartet, Dr. Burnell Ford, wizard of electricity, will give his mystifying demonstrations of the wonders of electricity.

BIG WORK OF DEPOT BRIGADE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., July 1.

—There is one section of every cantonment in which there are real war heroes with praises unsung—the Depot Brigade. At the big army camp here, the depot organization comprises the One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth Brigade, under Colonel Charles Castello. Although the brigade is known to call soldiers and officers and thousands of civilians who have visited the camp, few know its functions or the wonderful work it has performed.

The One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth Depot Brigade—the first army unit to which the draftee on his arrival here is assigned—is a huge army clearing house, comprising 12 training battalions. Here, rapidly and efficiently in converting recruits into soldiers are twin factors.

"The first few weeks are the most impressionable stage of a military man's career," Major E. K. Campbell, of the Fourth Training Battalion recently said. "It is impressions which he gains then that remain with him always in his army work. At that time, we lay the foundations either for a good soldier or an indifferent one."

"Therefore, the work in the depot brigade is very important and one that requires the very highest type of intelligence in its directors. From this brigade, the men must go to their regiments started right. While they are with us but a very short time, they must leave with nothing left to unlearn, this due to absence to any semblance of a slipshod training method."

A definite plan for every phase of the handling of the recruit from the moment he leaves the local board until he has been issued a full outfit and is put to work for Uncle Sam has been perfected.

Kindness and sympathy, rather than severity, characterize the treatment of the new comers. Drill officers, while they must command prompt obedience, are instructed to explain every point at length and also to give repeated examples of each order. The Sergeants and corporals as well as the lieutenants, show the recruits how the various facings, rests, attention, hand salute, etc., are executed, and they are patiently repeated until the most backward begins to get the swing of them.

"In order to teach successfully, the drill master must know how to illustrate every command," Major Ira A. Smith, head of the fourth officers' training school, said. "Patience above all is required. The instructor must be able to detect mistakes, to explain how they were made and how to avoid their repetition. Never jump on a recruit for failure to understand your explanation the first time. Study the men, learn their individual characteristics, show them the movements so they will understand them."

Everything in the reception of a recruit is carried out with clock-like precision. Officers now go to the cities in which the recruits are drafted and meet them. They are brought to camp, met at the depot and marched in a "column of twos" to the personnel officer where they are checked against the local draft boards' lists. Battalion representatives conduct the men to their organizations where they are checked out. Then they are escorted to the company barracks where mess kits are issued and a warm meal served, bedding and blankets given out. Medical examination and the fitting of uniforms follow. Then preliminary training begins.

Slackers are placed in the depot brigade's care. The "flat foots," those physically unfit for service overseas are there also. And when a regiment wants to fill its ranks to war strength in a hurry the commanders often send to the depot brigade and get just what they are looking for.

94 KILLED WHEN TRAIN IS WRECKED

Harry Hill, who had a miraculous escape in the riagenback-Wallace circus train wreck at Gary, Indiana, writing to John Green of this city states that a total of 94 persons were killed in the wreck, and that he lost all property except his live stock.

Mr. Hill further stated that some 32 persons remained in the hospitals in a more or less serious condition, but the show is continuing to give performances as previously scheduled, showing Monday at Marshall, Minn.

One of the cow-girls in the Hill portion of the circus met death in the disaster.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

American Ways in Italy.

Americans in Italy are even introducing base ball, along with American kinds of food and American clothing, at the Red Cross rehabilitation stations. One of the ambulance men writes:

"As yet, most of them catch the ball with their stomachs, but they are making rapid progress and they borrow our ball whenever it is not in use."

Hot coffee and bread and tobacco day or night for the men coming in from the trenches is the rule at the American Red Cross rest house for Italian soldiers, but Gifford Cochran, Yale athlete and winner of several big automobile races, who is in charge, knows that the men need the recreation grounds near the "hut" as much as they need the food supplied.

When all the students at the American Academy at Rome went into the American Army or took up Red Cross field work, Stanley Lothrop, professor of renaissance art, became a captain in the American Red Cross and took charge of over one hundred Americans and Italians to do rescue and repair work in the wake of the German raiders.

Experience in the devastated land is much the same for everyone. Henry P. Davison tells in the July Red Cross Magazine of the bombing of homes and stores and of how the German plane always returns to get the rescue party. American ways in Italy! The Red Cross rescuers always expect the return raid and say, "That's part of the game!"

The New Red Cross Button. You have probably noticed the attractive Red Cross gold-enameled membership buttons and pins which so many Red Cross workers are wearing.

These buttons are a distinctive combination of a gold band circling an enameled Red Cross on an enameled white background.

This type of insignia is particularly desirable because the buttons and pins possess dignity, security and permanency, and present a very attractive appearance.

Every member of the Red Cross should wear one of these buttons or pins. Old members should purchase and wear this insignia, setting an example to new members. To wear a Red Cross badge of this kind becomes a patriotic habit, and will prove a great stimulus to membership and a help to membership renewals.

There are two sizes of the buttons and pins, one five-eighths of an inch in diameter and the other three-eighths of an inch in diameter. They are inexpensively priced, costing only 25 cents each for the button or pin of either size.

BRIEF SESSION HELD BY SOLONS MONDAY EVENING

Joint Session of City Solons and Township Trustees Also Held

Four Councilmen and Two Trustees Missing In Meetings Somewhat Out of the Ordinary

A joint session of the Union township trustees, and the city council, and a session of council, were held Monday night, with four councilmen absent and two of the three trustees absent.

Routine business was transacted, the city council will adjourn to meet again Tuesday night of next week, next Monday night being passed by because of the Coop & Lent's circus in town that night. Certain was the only trustee present, and Rowe, Bloomer, Himmler and Hicks were the only councilmen present.

At the joint session the report of Superintendent George Gossard, of the Washington cemetery, was read and filed. It showed receipts for the three months ending June 30th of $1094.83, with $1260.82 expenses in the same period, and a balance of $764.41 in the working fund at the close of the quarter.

The report also showed that 23 burials had been made in the three months—a total of 79 burials for the half year.

At the session of council the matter of better drainage on Market street and Columbus avenue near the eastern end of the thoroughfares, was taken up and discussed. It was stated that in some of the properties the water stood as much as three feet in depth after some of the rains, and relief was asked. After some little discussion the matter was referred to the Service Director for action.

Mayor Dahl's report for the month showed $107.95 in fines; $90.25 in costs and $11.75 in street licenses, a total of $209.95.

City Auditor Hitchcock's report was read and accepted.

Attention was called to the desire for further consideration before submission of the semi-annual appropriation ordinance, and council adjourned until Tuesday night of next week when this will be taken up.

BOARD THRESHERS IS IN AGREEMENT

It is announced that boarding the thrasher crew, where the crew has no easy means of going home for the night, is included in the agreement recently reached between threshers and farmers.

It is further explained by some of those active in making certain arrangements connected with wages and board of laborers used in threshing, that the giving of the noon-day meal only was due to a desire to conserve, where there was often a duplication of suppers by farmers' wives who were uncertain whether the threshers would be with them for the evening meal, with result that two suppers would be prepared, and then only a few of the threshers eat at one of the farm house where supper was in readiness.

It is pointed out that in threshing the labor is furnished to a large extent by exchange of help among the farmers themselves.

MOTOR A THOUSAND MILES TO INSPECT WHOLESALE PLANT

A party of salesmen from the Litchfield Grocery Company, of Litchfield, Illinois, having learned of the "biggest small city wholesale house in the United States" were guests of The Dahl-Campbell Branch in this city, Monday, going over the huge plant in the taking of notes to be applied to their home plant in southwestern Illinois.

The party of five men, composed of Messrs. Kenyon Montgomery, H. C. Gorin, A. C. Stephens, B. C. Arnold and Lee Norvell, all of them live wires, made the trip of 500 miles to this city by automobile, and later departed on the return trip, declaring themselves overwhelmed with the magnitude of the plant in this city, and the modern equipment and methods used by the big firm.

The party previously had visited the plant in Chillicothe and were entertained to luncheon at Maple Grove by Manager Kyte, of the Chillicothe Branch of the firm, and Monday evening Mr. W. M. Campbell entertained the party to dinner at the Cherry.

Speaking of the plant here, Mr. Montgomery declared: "It simply took our breath away when we got here and saw the big plant, and the more we saw of the plant and went into the system in use, our wonder increased, while the hospitality shown us while here is another thing we shall never forget, and shall always recall with pleasure."

"We had often heard of the big, modern plant of The Dahl-Campbell Branch, but believe me, we never dreamed of such a great plant as that we have found, and we can say with utmost frankness that we have never visited its equal, and we have visited a great many big wholesale firms."

BEAUTIFUL PICTURE ROMANCE EXCITEMENT

Wonderful Edith Storey, who will be remembered as the star in the "Island of Regeneration," as "Lady of the Sea" again scored a decided success as actress and sportswomen, in beautiful picture "Treasure of the Sea" showing at the Palace Theater again tonight.

This picture contains all the romance and excitement its name implies.

There is an exciting quest for gold, which was lost when a treasure ship went down. The wreck is cast up by a hurricane and the battle for the gold is revealed in scenes replete with gripping intensity.

Excellent photography, beautiful and picturesque California coast settings combine to make it a picture of rare beauty and exceptionally fine entertainment.
